A site-specific exhibition - in tents

Venue: The beach at Churchill Barrier #4 (Burray end), Orkney

Date: Sunday 24th - Saturday 30th June 2007

Preview/BBQ: Sunday 24th, 2pm till late

CAMP is a site-specific installation for artists who are inspired by, motivated by, in awe of (or apprehensive of) the environs/history of this place.

Each work to be incorporated within a tent.

Non-commercial site, work to be unhampered by the necessity to sell or be valued.

Aim for every artist to be excited, productive, affected or even corrupted by their participation.

EXHIBITING ARTISTS:

Potluck preview - all drink, cups, BBQ food etc. to be provided by participating artists.

Please provide your own tent(s) - can be any shape, size or number.

Tents can be sited anywhere within the Burray side of Barrier #4.

Work to be in situ, ready for the preview (Sunday 24th at 2pm).

Exhibiting artists are solely responsible for every aspect of work to be presented, re. costs, setting up and taking down - plus any safety issues.

There will be no custodian on site, so all work is left at the artist's own risk.

All works to be removed Sunday 1st July and the site left in the same condition as found.
